

HOME HAPPENINGS

Pupils of the Normal college speak heartily of the work being done in the institution.

H. J. Dickson has a hitching rail supported by concrete posts placed in front of his general store.

Philip Stille has laid a concrete walk in front of the residence of J. W. Johnston on Scott street.

Arrangements have been made by Youngtown parties for automobile races on the Canfield fair grounds track Saturday afternoon.

Rev. W. L. Swan of Salem will preach in the Presbyterian church Friday evening at 7 o'clock preparatory to communion Sunday morning.

The C. W. B. M. of the Christian Church will hold an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. H. J. Beardsley next Wednesday. A good attendance is desired.

Canfield was favored Tuesday by visits from a large number of candidates for county offices. All put in their best looks for support at the election next Tuesday.

Canfield is not by any means a has-been as a trading point. Ranged along the west side of Broad street the other day were forty rigs of one kind and another. And all the stores were doing a good business.

The annual meeting of the Mahoning County Agricultural Society will be held in town hall, Canfield, next Wednesday at which time three members of the board of managers will be elected to serve three years.

Mrs. Charlotte Hake of Wadsworth street sent to the Dispatch office Wednesday two Rhode Island Greening apples, one of which weighed a pound and two ounces and the other an even pound. Some apples, these.

The Ladies' Auxiliary Board of the N. E. O. N. C. will meet next Monday night at the home of Mrs. A. Hussaw for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. A full attendance of the membership is desired.

C. E. Cress, who had charge of the local supply station of the Standard Oil Co. the past year and a half, has been promoted to a position in Cleveland and left Thursday for that city. His family will remain in Canfield for a month.

A spark from a chimney set fire to the roof of the Methodist parsonage, adjoining the Dispatch office, Monday forenoon, but the volunteer fire department responded so promptly and extinguished the blaze that little damage was done.

L. B. Curtis laid spring planted a peck of Bug Proof potatoes, a new variety in this section, and last Friday harvested a crop of nineteen bushels. He not only offers to make affidavit to his statement but stands ready to exhibit the tubers to doubters of his story.

G. G. King, manager of the Youngtown Telephone Co., was here Wednesday making arrangements to give Canfield people telegraphic election returns next Tuesday night. A wire will be run into town hall and the same reports given as are received in Youngtown. Mr. King is entitled to the thanks of our people for his interest and determination to give them satisfactory service.

W. L. Bryson says that great danger lurks in small boys jumping on the rear ends of delivery wagons and thinks the practice should be stopped. The other day he discovered several on his wagon, one of them a stranger which he thought might belong to Clyde Dickson.

An enthusiastic and largely attended democratic mass meeting was held in town hall last Saturday night. The speakers were Dahl Cooper, H. L. Beard, George Edwards, Orville McCallis and J. Howard Shields, all of Youngtown, and all were given generous applause, showing that their talks were appreciated.

The gas well on what is known as the flax mill property on South Broad street, drilled in last week by the Altimo Gas Co., was shot Tuesday morning and results were most satisfactory, the well being by long odds the strongest ever struck in this section. The pressure is so great that it is not yet under control. The well is perfectly dry which makes it especially valuable.

Miss Mabel Ewing, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ewing, of Austintown township, died Tuesday evening in the Youngtown City hospital, where she was taken three weeks ago for treatment. She was sick only five weeks, suffering from diseases of the blood and spleen. She was a bright, lovable girl and a member of the Canfield Methodist church and Sunday school. Funeral services will be held from the family home Friday at 10 a. m. Burial at Hill Hill cemetery in charge. Interment will be made in Dean Hill cemetery.

On Monday Dudley Hartman, who conducts a pool room on Broad street, patented the top of one of his pool tables with gasoline to kill moths that were destroying the cloth covering. Some time later, without thinking of possible danger, he lighted match to see how well the gasoline had done its work. Immediately the top of the table was in flames which shot up to the ceiling and the building would have been destroyed only for the prompt use of a chemical fire extinguisher. Mr. Hartman places his loss at $75.

Mrs. Hannah A. McCain died last Sunday morning in Schoelersburg, Mich., after an illness of several weeks. Deceased was the widow of the late Lieut. Charles McCain, a veteran of the civil war. Mrs. McCain was born in Goshen township and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Arnold who spent their last years in Canfield. About thirty-five years ago the deceased went to Michigan, where she had since been employed in the general store of Thos. Hewitt. The only near relatives surviving her are the following nephews and nieces: E. A. and S. A. Arnold of Canfield, Mrs. John Owens of Youngtown, Mrs. J. Calvin and Mrs. Nell Hutchings of Enley, Ala., and Miss Gladys Ramsey of Alliance. The remains were brought to Canfield Tuesday morning and funeral services, conducted by Rev. Robert E. Pugh, were held from the residence of S. A. Arnold in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment was made in the village cemetery.

WHY THE DISPATCH IS LATE THIS WEEK

On account of the breaking of a casting on the Dispatch newspaper press and delay in receiving repairs this issue of the paper reaches its readers many hours later than usual. We greatly regret this delay but the best possible was done under the circumstances.

It is proper to vote early but not often.

The Harding residence on Court street is being painted.

It was very evident from the appearance of several business places Friday morning that the boys had not overlooked Halloween. So far as learned, however, no property was destroyed.

HALLOWEEN CELEBRATION

In Canfield Brought Out Hundreds Who Greatly Enjoyed the Festivities.

An immense crowd enjoyed the Halloween celebration held in Canfield Wednesday night under the auspices of the cornet band. Early in the evening masked couples began appearing on Broad street and they kept coming until the town fairly swarmed with them. The costumes were of very little imagination and the wearers caused much merriment. Confetti and talcum powder filled the air and noisemakers of every description were kept busy. Hundreds of people for miles around came to see the fun. It is certain that none went home disappointed. There was merry-making and a general good time for everybody. The parade formed near the Normal college building, marching to Morris drug store and returning to the starting point. In the parade were several vehicles manufactured for the occasion and all made a hit with the crowd. A 1913 model taxicab was especially clever. So successful was the first attempt at Mardi Gras doings that it is proposed next year to arrange for it on a much larger scale. Prizes were awarded from the bandstand by a ghostly-appearing committee as follows:

Best masked gentleman, camera, E. Y. Kirk. Second, hair cut and shave, Earl Kyle.

Best masked lady, sweater, Mrs. Grace Carroll. Second, auto hood, Miss Hazel Hubble.

Best masked boy under 15, military brushes, Robert Manchester. Second, pocket knife, Oliver Smith.

Best masked girl under 15, pen and pencil outfit, Anna Manchester. Second, box candy, Dorris Dickson.

Family taking most male members into Wiesner's, dozen pairs canvas gloves, John Schaal.

Best masked couple, pair overalls, Irving Hine; roast of beef, Mrs. Elizabeth McClune. Second, large box candy, B. S. Andrews; potato mash, Mrs. Roy Dickson.

Queerest rig, half dozen silver teaspoons, Cecil and Earl Martin. Canine and Erwood Calvin. Second, umbrella, Fred Schaal.

Family having most members present at Bryson's, sack of flour, Lester Baird.

Largest pumpkin shown in bandstand safety razor, B. Miller. Second, necktie, B. J. Calvin.

Band did well with its refreshment stand.

Given Surprise Party. Friends gave Miss Odessa Fitch an enjoyable surprise masquerade party at her home in Dublin last Thursday evening. At a late hour oysters were served. Those present were Effie Hake, Virginia Kidd, Fay Cox, Villa Kinko, Kathryn Nash, Lotta Myers, Vern Rupert, Helen Cook, Effie Lynn, Ina Esterly, Neva Hull, Marion Tanner, Pearl Wilson, Emma Kirkpatrick, Edna Delfs, Nila Waters, Zentha Calvin, Hazel Cook, Lulu Hake, Convey Calvin, Leaton Frederic Lewis, Hendricks, Ivan Thomas, Earl Paulin, Russell Justice, Ray Hull, Irving Kubie, Perry Heintzelman, Edmond Tanner, Joseph Justice, Russell Calvin, Perry Cook, Walter Scott, Lawrence Sipe, Bryan Lynn, Albert Moff, Geo. Skeiston, Wilber Wilson, Lloyd O. Viets, Neil Dickson, Frank and Fred Fitch.

Woman a Bank Director.

Miss Alice Malone, manager of a banking firm in Washington, has just been elected a director of the new East Washington bank. She is said to be the first woman to hold such a post in the national capital, and also to be one of the five best accountants in this country.

Now Comes the Golf Faker.

A ball played by a golfer at Weston-Super-Mare struck a skylark, so we read, and cut the bird's head off. You should hear us tell our story of the golf ball which stuck in a bird's beak in the middle of its flight. The bird flew off with the ball to its nest. Fortunately for the player, the bird had made its nest in the next hole.—London Globe.

The KITCHEN CABINET

IF WE try to influence or elevate others, we shall soon see that success is in proportion to their belief of our belief in them.

A FEW FALL SALADS.

If we have been forehanded when pineapples were plentiful, we have a reserve of choice pineapple to use for all sorts of desserts, salads and cake filling. The flavor of the home-canned is much better than that which we ordinarily buy.

Clifton Salad.—Take a half cup each of dates, figs, pineapple and three oranges and three-fourths of a cup of sugar. Cut the oranges in halves, remove the pulp and put the skin on the ice. Cut the fruit in small pieces and mix with a mayonnaise dressing. Fill each orange cup with the mixture of fruit, sugar and dressing and keep a tablespoonful of whipped cream on top. Serve on lettuce.

Pickles, peas and peanuts are good served with a very little salad dressing.

Date Salad.—Wash and without paring, cut two medium-sized, good-favored apples into dice, add a pound of tinned and quartered dates, mix with a cup of pecans and pour over the following dressing.

Two eggs well beaten, four tablespoons of vinegar, a tablespoonful of butter and a tablespoonful of sugar. Season with salt and cook over hot water until thick; remove from the fire, and when cool add a tablespoonful of olive oil.

Orange and Date Salad.—This is a salad particularly nice to serve with the following: Stone the dates and cut in halves lengthwise. Remove the oranges in sections, arrange in a mound on crisp lettuce leaves and surround with the dates. Serve with French dressing.

Fruit Salad.—Cut a half pound of dates into eighths, chop a half cup of figs, mix with half a cup of coconut, three oranges, three bananas, two apples and a bunch of celery, all cut fine; add a half cup of pecan meats and mix all together with mayonnaise dressing. Serve each portion on lettuce or in orange cups with a tablespoonful of sweetened whipped cream on top, decorated with a date cut in quarters.

HENEVER you attempt a good work you will find others doing the same kind of work, and probably doing it better. Envy them not.

FALL FESTIVITIES.

A pumpkin is the time-honored vegetable for the Halloween table and many and various are the uses for it as a decorator. The little paper-mache imitations may be used as bonnet boxes or as receptacles for salted nuts. The real pumpkin, however, lends itself to almost anything the ingenuity of the hostess wishes to create.

A very happy arrangement was placed last year upon the table of a young housekeeper for a Halloween party. A round pumpkin was bored with holes and pretty chrysanthemums were thrust in, the flower resting on the rim of the pumpkin. After the flowers were all placed the center looked like a great fluffy chrysanthemum. One might have ribbons attached to the flowers, which could be drawn by each guest, and so furnish a boutonniere. The pumpkin is lined with paper and filled with fruit or bonbons.

Sandwich plates, salad bowls and meat platters may be cut from small oblong-shaped pumpkins; these lined with lace paper doilies make most fetching dishes.

Gnome Salad.—Add a half cup of chopped almonds to a chicken and celery salad, two finely chopped peppers, half a cup of pineapple juice and the juice of a large onion. Mix well, then add mayonnaise. Garnish with olives stuffed with almonds.

Charm Cake.—Bake any desirable cake and put a ring, a thimble and a time in the ring. Cover the cake with white frosting and decorate with chocolate witches.

Serve ice cream in halves of muslin and decorate the cream with roses, nose and mouth made of chocolate, melted, or citron and currants.

Goblin Pies.—These are individual pumpkin pies decorated with features and given a frill of lace paper for a hood.
